Map Information

This metro diagram was created to give the huge softball community in the UK its dedicated map (and city). Though many softballers have received stations and tram stops on the St. Jacques Map, map real estate there is in danger of exhaustion. Stations and tram stops for softballers are often on the outskirts of the city. This has garnered numerous questions and complaints!

If you are part of the softball community, and I know you reasonably well on a name basis, this means you will almost certainly have a station on this map. There will be people I know, however, not on a name basis, which will not have stations, but I am hoping to include them in future versions.

This iteration has capacity for 1,000 softballers. There are currently 894 players who have their own station on this diagram. Unquestionably, the map in its current state will not have enough space for people I hope to meet in the 2026 softball season. With certainty, the next version of this map will have some significant changes and expansions.

To find your station easily, there is a version of the map on my website which has an index of stations as well as an index of teams. A QR code is provided below for your to scan which will take you to my website.

All softball players are guaranteed stations (not tram stops). Tramways are dedicated to baseball players (most of which received stations on the St. Jacques Map). A baseball player can be upgraded from a tram stop to a station if I witness them playing softball (which is quite frankly, the more fun sport!) There are currently 209 baseball players with tram stops.

Please note that unlike in St. Jacques, station locations are flexible and may be re-positioned in future iterations where I see fit, as I want to organise stations in categories (depending on the team or club).

Feel free to let me know if you have any alternative station name ideas, or if you wish to be repositioned, and I will take this into consideration for future iterations.

Thank you very much for taking the time to look at the map, any comments are appreciated.
